

THE CITY.

Phillip Darr, of the Union Pacific car department, an old veteran soldier of the Mexican war, received his papers yesterday which entitles him to an $8 pension per month for the balance of his life.

Fifty excursionists from northern Pennsylvania stopped in the city last night en route for the Pacific slope. They were astonished at the marvelous strides the Gate City is making.

Personal Paragraphs.
Mr. C. E. Harrison, of Kearney, is at the Paxton.

Mr. Arthur I. Brewster, of Lincoln, is at the Windsor.

Mr. J. Steadman, of Red Oak, Ia., is at the Windsor.

General Brooks has returned from a visit to western posts.

Mr. J. D. Ryan of Standing Rock Agency, is in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Hatfield, of Beatrice, are in the city.

Mr. Harry Clark and Miss Minnie Stele, of Pine Ridge Agency, are at the Paxton.

Collins Jordan and daughter have gone on a trip through Canada and the eastern states.

Mr. C. S. Mollen, purchasing agent for the Union Pacific, is back from a trip to Denver.

Mr. G. H. Burr, court reporter of Lincoln county, Iowa, was a Sunday visitor to Omaha.

Colonel Hall is home from his trip of inspection to the posts in the department of the Platte.

Miss Neelan, one of Patterson's clerks, is enjoying a vacation among friends in Iowa and Illinois.

Dr. Sowers' family leave today for a vacation in the mountains. They will be joined by the doctor and his family.

Mr. M. D. Smith, Evelyn B. Ayres, Alice M. Smith and Mr. Fred W. Clarke, all of Creston, Ia., were Sunday diners of the Paxton.

Mr. Byron Webster, of Dubuque, is in the city. He is internal revenue collector for eastern Iowa, and also publisher of the Marshalltown Statesman.

Mr. M. J. O'Rourke, of O'Neill, and well known in this city, was in town yesterday making arrangements for his removal to South Omaha, where he is to locate.

He leaves this morning for O'Neill to settle his library, papers and other essentials. He will return in about a week or ten days.

A Window Sneezer Falls.
An elderly man named John Patton fell out of a second story window in the Elkhorn Valley house early yesterday morning. His left arm was broken and the bone protruded from the flesh. He was otherwise bruised and badly shaken. He was taken to the hospital and the window sill to cool off, but went to sleep.

Sadie Says She Is No Thief.
Sadie Elliott, one of the water girls employed at the Occidental hotel, was arrested last evening on the charge of stealing some underclothes and aprons from one of the other water girls. Sadie denies the charge of stealing the underclothes, but she admitted that she had taken the aprons. She was released on her own recognizance.

Condemned Meat.
The spectacle of a large wagon load of beef being driven to the dump and cast into the big muddy yesterday, led to an inquiry as to the cause, when it was learned that it was only part of nearly a car load which had been condemned by Fred Hackett, the meat inspector. The meat was the property of the Omaha Packing company, and they were preparing to sell it to their customers, when the inspectors of the meat inspector passed judgment upon it and declared it unfit for use.

Baptist Mission Work.
The Baptist societies of the city held a union meeting at the First Baptist church last evening to consider the matter of city missions. Probably the rain kept many away, for barely a hundred persons were in attendance. Addresses were made by Rev. Holmes and Foster, explaining the necessity for missionary work in Omaha and urging the Baptists to strive for the increase of the church. For action was taken. A meeting of the city mission board will be held Thursday night.

CHILD AND ADULT.
The Baby Farm puts Two More Victims Under the Daisies.

Two more deaths are to be added to the list already published in this issue as having occurred at Nan Maxwell's "baby farm" on Twenty-eighth and Seward streets. One of these was a miserable little baby but a few weeks old, who has already been decried in these columns, but whose death took place several days later than was expected. The name of the mother of the child could not be learned, but it was stated that she was a resident of Missouri Valley. But one baby now remains in the home, and the mother of this little wretch is Annie Keith.

This little innocent suffers daily for existence in a little bed, in a little room, crowded with other babies, and the mother, who is a miserably poor creature, is unable to extract what requires about the same exertion as would be demanded of a child in making a lemon through a sieve. It is not thought that the little one will long maintain the unequal contest. The remains of the dead child were interred in Forest Lawn cemetery.

The second death was that of Mrs. Dickinson. She was burned at the "farm" on last Thursday night while working at a gasoline stove. She was cared for by medical experts, made as comfortable as possible during her sufferings. She was attended by Drs. Lewis and Sumner. Saturday night it was found advisable to remove her to the hospital where, yesterday morning at 7:30 o'clock, she died. The remains were removed to Forest Lawn cemetery, where the funeral will take place today at 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Dickinson is about twenty-eight years of age. She had two children, aged six and four years respectively. Her husband is now being cared for by neighbors. The deceased has been here for two years and in that time has made a living as best she could by housekeeping. She was working for Nan Maxwell for board and shelter for herself and children. The latter are strong and healthy little ones. Mrs. Dickinson's name was Wentz, and she was married to her husband Joseph, in Williamsburg, Ia. She was deserted by him two years ago. She was without means and her husband's expenses will have to be met by charity. Already one of the neighbors has collected sufficient money to provide her with a home under the auspices of the church.

Notwithstanding the fatality which has attended the little waifs who have been inmates of this "home," Nan Maxwell announces that she will continue to receive children to be cared for. The announcement is an unfortunate one. The wickedness of her also her own poverty, her nervous disposition, her makeshift system of nursing, her ignorance of medicine and, above all, the rate at which her little charges have been dying, proclaim the futility of the woman for the means she has chosen of making a livelihood. There is nobody to question the woman's sincerity and the morality of her character, but neither of these are sufficient to make her a good nurse for half a dozen children in most needy cases. As a rule, her charges have been those of illegitimate birth, whom the mothers are only too happy to be relieved of, for whom they are frequently unable to pay more than one month's board and when they subsequently leave to Nan Maxwell to support at her own expense, and finally to be buried by the county. Neighbors in the vicinity are in arms against the "home" and say that what Miss Nan Maxwell thinks is kindness under difficulties, is in reality, treatment to which even abandoned children should never be subjected. Besides, they are not gratified with funerals at frequent intervals from their midst, nor do they favor a founding hospital with its patrons of questionable virtue at their very doors. These stoutly assert that if Nan Maxwell continues in her erratic notions they will have recourse to the courts to enjoin her.

FURNITURE THIEVES.
Albert Smith, Another of the Trio in the Police Station.

Other Dempsey and Harry Winter arrived in Omaha about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon with Albert Smith, one of the trio of dishonest clerks, who have been systematically robbing their employers, Dewey & Sloan. Smith was captured at Hastings by the officers of that place as he answered the description sent out by telegraph. When he saw his game was up he surrendered willingly. A telegram was sent to this city, advising the police here of his capture. Officer Dempsey was detailed to bring him to Omaha and Harry Winter accompanied him to identify Smith. The reported capture of Ham Henry, the third crook in the case, proves to be a mistake. He is simply thought to be at Wahoo, but has not yet been captured.

Rumors that all three of the thieves were supporting fast women, and so depraved had Quinn become that he was inclined to believe the rumors, the notorious strumpet, Myrtle Bates, with whom he was living. The trial of the two who have been captured occurs this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

PRICKLY ASH BITTERS is an unfailing cure for all diseases originating in biliary derangements caused by the malaria of malarious countries. No other medicine now on sale will so effectively remove the disturbing elements, and at the same time tone up the whole system. It is sure and safe in its action.

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.
The Board of Trade Meeting on Saturday Night.

Board of trade directors met again Saturday night, and after the reading of the minutes several new members took shares of stock. Councilman Smith explained what the city council intended to do about the new bridge and viaducts, as it has already appeared in The Bee, and it was stated that the joint viaduct and stock yards company were prepared to take a large number of the bonds necessary for the work, which issued by Messrs. Boier and Basilek were granted permission to address those present, and announced that they were at present engaged in the manufacture of a patent fence. They wished to locate in South Omaha, and would put in a plant worth $20,000, that would employ from fifty to six hundred men. The present business necessitates the employment of ten traveling salesmen, and within a year they expect that it will require about two hundred mechanics to fill the orders. They had been offered an acre each by Messrs. Jetter and O'Rourke as a site for their building, and they wished to know if there were any other improvements. The matter was referred to Messrs. Doe, Howard and Beckott. Communications were also received from the Mount Vernon (O.) bridge company and W. L. Evans, of Cedar Falls, Ia. John C. Carroll, treasurer of the board, then handed in his resignation as a member of the board, and it was accepted. A letter from an eastern firm wishing to start a fertilizing and chemical factory was read and referred to the committee on the part of the board, and the board adjourned for two weeks.

Stock Yard Improvements.
Work is progressing rapidly on the new buildings of Messrs. Amos & Cudahy. About 100,000 yards of earth will be excavated to make room for them, the deepest part of the cut being about forty feet. That part of the work is being done by Dan Condon & Co., and is in charge of W. T. Walker, who has to look after 400 teams. The building designed for the offices and boarding house for the clerical force is almost completed. It will be two stories in height and cover 50,000 feet. The best packing house will be 45x500 and be entirely of brick, which will necessitate the use of about 4,000,000 bricks. To meet this the firm is erecting an improved brick making plant, with a capacity of 50,000 per day. South Omaha still grows.

Notes About the City.
Lillie Cohen, the eight-months old daughter of H. L. Cohen, died Saturday, and Walter Smith, the four-year-old son of Joseph Smith, was buried yesterday afternoon.

The Harbin ball club failed to put in an appearance yesterday and the game was awarded to Crane Bros. team by a score of 9 to 0.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Whitley and family have gone east, to Turner, Ill., where Mrs. Whitley will spend a few weeks, while Mr. Whitley will proceed to St. Paul.

The grain club shoot resulted in a tie between James P. Hayes and John O. Gorman, but in shooting a off Hayes won the medal.

John Whittell, second baseman for the Jetter & Youngs, has gone to Stuart, Ia.

City council meets tonight.

Yesterday an elderly woman named Betz, the wife of a shoemaker from Twenty-sixth street, endeavored to swallow the cable of this world for those of another by taking a dose of oxalic acid. Medical aid was called and her life saved, but she says she had tried it again and the first opportunity. Family trouble is said to be the cause.

What July Brings Forth.

This is the month for closing out Summer Goods and we propose to wind up the most successful spring season with a grand clearing out sale. We do not brag much to day of the size of our stock, nor the variety of our assortment. We admit that just now you may find a much larger stock in other houses.—But this fact only demonstrates that we have done the business and while our competitors generally complain about a dull season, we have done a larger spring business than we ever dreamt of doing.

What little we have left in the way of Summer Suits, must all go this month, and no matter how low the prices were before, we will cut them still more.

The greatest hit of the season was made with our 75c flannel Coat and Vests. These are the talk of the town. When we first advertised them, a great many people came into the store out of curiosity, just to see whether we really did give a good Coat and Vest for that money; well they were surprised and though they didn't need any they quickly bought one, as it was too good a chance to miss and so it comes that almost every other man you meet on the streets, wears one. When two days ago these Coats and Vests gave out we thought we had sold enough of them and did not intend to get any more, as we must have supplied half of the population of the city, but so great was the demand for them yesterday and day before, and so many customers were disappointed that we concluded to telegraph for another shipment. We have ordered one thousand more of them; they will be here and open for sale on Monday morning. Mail orders accompanied by cash for these Coats and Vests will be filled until Wednesday, as the supply will not last longer.

The balance of our Mohair, Serge and genuine French flannel Coats and Vests including a few extra fine Pongee Silks has been marked down regardless of cost or value.
